We Are Community Integrated Care

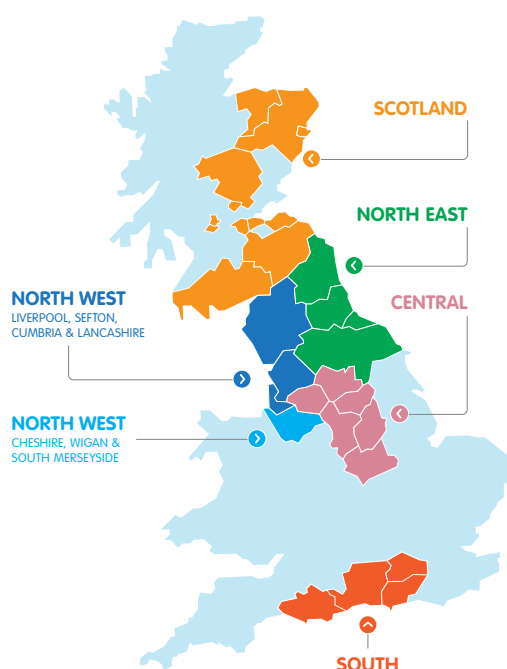

Community Integrated Care is one of the UK's largest and most successful health and social care charities.

For over a quarter of a century we have worked at the forefront of the care sector, helping people with care and support needs to lead full and happy lives.

We work in the community, delivering life-enhancing services to people of all ages, with a diverse range of needs, including:

- Learning disabilities
- Mental health concerns
- Autism
- Age-related needs
- Dementia

We Are A National Charity

Community Integrated Care delivers services from Scotland, right down to the foot of England.

We focus on working locally, understanding the special characteristics of each community we deliver services in. To do this, we have structured our organisation into six regional divisions, which each have the resources, specialist skills and support to deliver excellent services in our local communities.

We Care With Passion

Community Integrated Care was founded in 1988, with the aim of supporting people leaving long-stay, institutional hospitals to lead fuller, better lives in the community.

We were one of the pioneers of 'care in the community', believing that having support needs should not be a barrier to living with independence and choice, and we have always kept these values at our heart.

Our charity has grown to deliver a wide range of innovative and bespoke services to thousands of people. With our broad mix of experience and specialist skills, we have the ability, insight and resources to deliver exceptional services.

At Community Integrated Care we believe that good support means enabling people to achieve their fullest potential, by continually promoting their independence. To achieve this, we focus on delivering 'person-centred support'. This means that every person is provided with a personalised service that is right for them as an individual – fulfilling their needs, interests and aspirations.

We enjoy working in close collaboration with health and social care professionals, such as commissioners, social work professionals and GPs, sharing our mutual expertise and skills. In doing so, we are able to deliver services that holistically meet the care and support needs of the people we support.

"I like doing the things I love, with the people important to me."

We Believe In Potential

Community Integrated Care strives to make the greatest possible difference to society and the people we support. We were founded with a clear vision that having a disability should not mean exclusion from opportunity, dignity and equality. This same passion and commitment remains at the very core of our charity today.

We believe in aiming for the exceptional, by always focussing on improvement and thinking big. In recognition of this, the vision of Community Integrated Care is to become the UK's Leading Health and Social Care Charity.

Our Values

Our ambitious and uncompromising attitude is reflected in our organisational values, which are the five key characteristics that we always endeavour to uphold:

– WE RESPECT individual choice and promote inclusion, rights and independence.

- WE ENABLE individuals to meet their needs and fulfil their aspirations.
- WE ASPIRE to be the best at what we do.
- WE DELIVER the best possible outcomes for the people we support and the partners we work with.
- WE INCLUDE the people we support, our staff, the communities we work in and our partners.

We're Proud Of Our People

Community Integrated Care employs over 5000 caring and committed staff. We focus on recruiting individuals with strong values, a passion for people and a positive outlook. All of our colleagues receive a comprehensive induction, as well as further training and development, to nurture their skills and give them the right tools to deliver quality support.

In recognition of our efforts to not only deliver great services but a great employment experience too, we have achieved 'Investors in People' status in both England and Scotland. Our charity has also been awarded a prestigious 'Care Employer' award. These successes represent our dedication to developing our employees and services, so that at all levels we are a progressive, successful organisation.

To us, the fact that the people we support lead great lives is the highest possible reward – but we're proud to have received external commendation for our work too. We have been awarded many prestigious care sector accolades, celebrating our success in providing quality services, acting progressively and enabling the people we support to fulfil their aspirations.

As an active and committed care provider, we also seek ways to support our local communities and frequently back national care sector initiatives. You can read our latest news on our website: www.c-i-c.co.uk/news
